Ken Forster : Alternative American Ceramics, 1870-1955: The Other American Art Pottery before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Alternative American Ceramics, 1870-1955: The Other American Art Pottery:

This is a comprehensive study of American art/studio pottery, dinnerware, and other functional wares (including china painting and ceramic decoration and design) produced without a primary profit-making motivation. Researched over a period of six years, it documents ceramics activity from the first recreational china painting enthusiasts, through varying stages of formal ceramic instruction, to the shift from ceramics as craft to art. This invaluable resource details works from non-commercial programs, including the Saturday Evening Girls, the Works Progress Administration, and many others.
